Best Man Speech

By Christopher Reid

(copied from bits of everyone else)

Good afternoon ladies and gentlemen, I hope everyone is enjoying this very special day so far.

For those of you who don't know me, my name is Chris Reid, I'm Neil's big brother and it is my great pleasure, and honour to be his Best Man today.

I have never been a best man before, and I am not renowned for my speech writing, but I'll try my best. Because Neil said if I do a good job today, I can be Best Man at his next wedding, too.

[pause]

Let me start by saying that I think you will all agree our georgous bride Kath looks like a million dollars today.

And, I'm sure you'll agree with me gentlemen, when I say today is a sad day for single men everywhere, as another beauty leaves the available list.

And ladies, I'm sure you'll agree that today's passing by, without much of a ripple at all?

I'm was actually a little bit nervous about giving this speech today, so I rehearsed it a few times in front of a live audience at the local old people's home, ... and I think it went very well, because they all pissed themselves anyway.

My other brother Ronnie gave me a few tips for my nerves, he said just imagine the entire audience is naked. [Scan the audience and grimace at a few people]

[pause]

As best man it's traditional for me to complete 3 roles for today.

The 1st was to get Neil here on time and to look as good as we could make him, and I'm sure you will all agree that I have done the best job I could with what I had to work with. It is a difficult task because after all, I'm best man, not a plastic surgeon!

And my 2nd task is to reveal how many ex girlfriends our groom has had, but as I'm his loving big brother I couldn't bring myself to embarrassing him on his big day, but I will just say to Neil, number 93 was your winner mate."

And my last duty was to make sure the wedding goes smooth, this is why I have my pocket guide book to help me. [show book]

In my little pocket guide it mentioned three important parts of today's service

Being the best man has several responsibilities associated with it, such as being the ring bearer. However, one of the most challenging tasks there is has to be the best man speech. Not only does the speech itself need to be gripping, formal and funny but even small gestures can change the context of what you are saying and influence the watching guests.

I found the hardest part for me was that my voice clearly showed signs of nerves and this would reflect in anything I was trying to say - including the jokes. It is hard to get a one liner to hit home hard if you are not addressing the crowd with a swagger of confidence. It is also hard to get any depth in your voice if you are nervous, so I realised it was key for me to get this sorted before the couples big day came around.

You can use various relaxation techniques to try and control this and I found a recording from a hypnotherapist helped to ease my nerves and the shaky voice I suffered went away. From then on I only had to worry that the content was suitable and to write it of course!

I found someone who helped me alter some words and the structure of my speech which made it much more powerful and heartfelt. You can use the structure from any example bestman speeches and change the content for your own, but unless you have a certain understanding and way with words you may also have the same trouble. Researching, reviewing and practicing your speech is just as important as writing it. You need to be able to deliver it as if it were flowing straight from your mind. If you get stuck, be sure to have a spare slide that you don't intend to use handy so you can recover by using this one to get you back on track.

The speech should be enjoyable for you as it is for others listening to you. With a little work, you can easily pull this off even if you are not a public speaker.

Mother of Bride speech

I have been waiting to do this for a long time. ____ has always been a person who truly loves life. From the day she saw her first Princess movie, she always wanted to get married.

As a mother, I couldn't have been happier raising someone as sweet as her. When she would try something new, she never quit until she got what she wanted.

Enter ____. I don't know if you know this ____, but the day she met you she said she'd marry you, and here you are.

During the course of their relationship I have seen the two of them flourish so well together that I can hardly believe they're the same two people.

I am so proud of what you've accomplished together. And wish the two of you all the happiness in the world. Cheers.

Mother speech

Today, I can't describe the feelings that are rushing through me. You have always been such a beautiful and passionate girl and today I know I've never seen you more beautiful & passionate, except now you're a woman.

Like most parents out there, your children can be a handful and there are days where you wonder what ever made you get into this "parent trap." But thankfully, especially
